December 2020

The UD Men for Gender Equity Initiative wishes everyone a happy and restful holiday break. As we prepare to enter into this season of rest we invite you to still keep in mind how we as a community can actively change oppressive systems and advocate for equity in our daily lives!

We look forward to engaging more with our UD community in 2021 so please be on the lookout for more educational materials and engagement opportunities!

Upcoming Engagement Opportunities

Invitation to Participate: Caretaking During the Pandemic

The Women's Center invites faculty and staff to complete a survey on caretaking and remote work during the coronavirus pandemic. All responses are anonymous and will assist us in understanding the needs and challenges of our community as we adapt to changing conditions at home and at work.

The Equity Advocates and Women's Advisory Council are working hard to create virtual engagement opportunities for the 2020-2021 academic year. Be on the lookout in next month's newsletter for any new opportunities or email UDMenforGenderEquity@udayton.edu for more information!

The Gendering of Holiday Labor

Putting on a holiday celebration is a lot of hard work, and this year is no exception. Even with the COVID-19 pandemic changing how people will celebrate holidays, a history of labor being placed on women in heterosexual relationships exists. In this JSTOR article from 2019 author Hope Reese breaks down how holiday anxieties, stressors, and expectations disproportionately affect women during their "break."

Share Your Experience

The Women's Advisory Council invites you to submit any comments, questions, or other concerns related to gender equity and campus climate. The form is anonymous and will not collect any identifying information. The Council will share these comments in aggregate with the men's Equity Advocates and Allies as we work collaboratively to affect positive change on campus.
